

Have you earned your WINGS?

"This is Capt. Sully Sullenberger and I applaud the FAA Team and its many supporters for encouraging general aviation pilots to seek proficiency training in their flying endeavors through this comprehensive program. Unlike Jeff and myself, your passengers are generally your family and friends, giving you an additional incentive to assure your piloting skills make their flights safe. Earning a WINGS PHASE Means Proficiency and Peace of Mind while making you a more informed and safer pilot."
