

FLY SAFE

Pilot Proficiency Seminar

Upgrade Your Weather Briefing

Earn WINGS credit at the inaugural event of the KTRK Fly Safe Pilot Proficiency Program. Local pilot and meteorologist Chris Johnston will discuss aviation weather hazards for the Sierra and Western Nevada as well as National Weather Service tools and resources to help pilots make better informed decisions.

Chris Johnston

 Meteorologist
 Aviation Program Manager
 National Weather Service | Reno, Nevada

 christopher.johnston@noaa.gov

 (775) 673-8100

 weather.gov/reno

 @NWSReno

Zoom Option!

Passcode

949517

About The Speaker

Chris Johnston is an instrument rated pilot who has worked extensively in aviation weather at the National Center for Atmospheric Research. His research includes in-flight icing remote sensing, radar and ASOS equipment development.

Event Details

Monday, February 26, 5:30pm

KTRK Conference Room

1 FAA WINGS Credit

Basic Knowledge Topic 3