

Pilot Proficiency Seminar

Staying Sharp in Single Pilot Operations

Mountain flying comes with inherent risks. The decisions you make when flying solo can be the difference between a pleasant trip and a harrowing experience. Chris Barbera joins us to share the techniques of staying ahead of your aircraft and managing operational risks when the weather is less than ideal. He'll also be looking at recent high-profile accidents in Truckee to help develop the decision-making skills that can keep you safe. Join your fellow aviators live or via Zoom for this kick-off event of the Fly Safe season.

About The Speaker

Chris Barbera is the CEO & Director of Operations of Mountain Lion Aviation, a Truckee based charter operator and Cirrus Certified Training Center. A native Nevadan, Chris' corporate flight experience has taken him around the world experiencing both international and oceanic operations.
